Kenya has one of the highest maternal mortality rates in the world. To help address this challenge, UNOPS is supporting UNICEF to strengthen healthcare services across five counties. In Turkana County, Imelda Malingu Osodo, the only woman on site, oversees the construction of facilities.
In 2017, UN organizations procured $503 million of goods and services from suppliers in Kenya.

INTRODUCTION

INTRODUCTION

The Annual Statistical Report on United Nations Procurement (ASR) provides an overview of the procurement of the United Nations (UN) system in support of its operations, projects and programmes.

Reporting on UN procurement activities was first presented to the 39th session of the General Assembly in 1984, prepared by the Inter–Agency Procurement Services Office (IAPSO) of the United Nations Development Programme (UNDP)<sup>1</sup>. Later that year, the General Assembly requested continued reporting on procurement activities undertaken by UN organizations.<sup>2</sup>

This reporting has evolved from a section in a report on Operational Activities of the UN System, to the detailed, stand-alone ASR of today, together with the on-line publication of summary statistics on the United Nations Global Marketplace (UNGM) website.<sup>3</sup> This 2017 report is the 34th edition of the publication.

In the 2017 edition, the ASR includes information on categories of goods and services procured by the UN system, the countries from which these goods and services were procured and analysis of collaboration within the UN. For the tenth consecutive year, the ASR reports on organizations' efforts to integrate sustainability considerations into their procurement processes, in the context of the UN's continued focus on sustainable development.

The United Nations Office for Project Services (UNOPS) has compiled and published the report since 2008 on behalf of organizations of the UN system. UNOPS is grateful to participating UN organizations for their continuous support and contributions that make this publication possible. UNOPS continually strives to improve and refine the report to better meet the expectations and objectives of the UN Member States, donors, UN organizations and the business community.

Methodology

Participants

For 2017, 40 UN organizations participated in the ASR, compared to 39 in 2016, with the International Monetary Fund (IMF) welcomed as the additional organization to report procurement data for 2017. Where this report refers to procurement by the UN or by UN organizations, it refers to the procurement activities of these 40 organizations, as listed in Annex IV – Participating organizations, 2017.

Procurement data

UNOPS requested statistical data on the procurement of goods and services for operational activities from UN organizations in the form of data on purchase orders raised in 2017.

Procurement is defined as the acquisition through purchase or lease of real property, goods or other products (including intellectual property), works or services.<sup>4</sup>

1 A/39/417.

2 A/RES/39/220.

3 ASR data is published online at: https://www.ungm.org/public/asr.

4 As defined by the UN Procurement Practitioner's Handbook, available from https://www.ungm.org/Areas/Public/pph/.

- Goods include objects of every kind and descriptions, including raw materials, products and equipment and objects in solid, liquid or gaseous form, and electricity, as well as services incidental to the supply of the goods if the value of those incidental services does not exceed that of the goods themselves.
- Services include work, duty or labour performed by a contractor pursuant to a contract. Rendering of services may involve the associated provision of utilities or facilities if specified in the terms of the contract. Typical examples of services include security, catering, cleaning, travel management, event management, IT services, training, freight forwarding and consulting.

While UN organizations may have different systems and methodologies for recording and reporting on procurement data individually, for the purposes of the ASR, a common definition of procurement is used and data is collected in a standardized format. Some organizations may therefore publish procurement statistics that differ from those published in the ASR. Further, some organizations have limitations on the level of detail they are able to provide.

Participating organizations upload procurement data into an online system, hosted by UNGM, where it is subject to an initial verification, then UNOPS conducts detailed data quality and consistency checks to ensure that the data is comparable across organizations and years. The organizations are ultimately responsible for the accuracy and completeness of the data they submit.

The United Nations Procurement Division (UNPD) extracted, validated, and submitted procurement data on behalf of its affiliate organizations that implemented Umoja, a common enterprise resource planning (ERP) system used by a number of UN organizations. Each organization confirms its data submission and is individually represented in the report. The 11 organizations subject to this process in 2017 were: UNPD; the United Nations Economic Commission for Latin America and the Caribbean (ECLAC); the United Nations Economic and Social Commission for Asia and the Pacific (ESCAP); the United Nations Economic and Social Commission for Western Asia (ESCWA); the International Trade Centre (ITC); the United Nations Assistance to the Khmer Rouge Trials (UNAKRT); the United Nations Economic Commission for Africa (UNECA); the United Nations International Criminal Tribunal for the former Yugoslavia (UNICTY/MICT); the United Nations Office at Geneva (UNOG); the United Nations Office at Nairobi (UNON); and the United Nations Office at Vienna (UNOV).

Similarly, the UN Development Program (UNDP) prepared and submitted data on behalf of United Nations Volunteers (UNV), as well as submitting its own data.

Procurement volume and currency

Purchase orders and contracts for services are reported by contract amount and not by expenditures incurred. Many organizations are unable to report on actual expenditures due to technical limitations.

Organizations are able to submit data in one of three currencies: United States dollars (USD), Euros (EUR) or Swiss Francs (CHF). The report uses only United States dollars. Where organizations have submitted data in Euros or Swiss Francs, these values have been converted to US dollars using an average exchange rate, based on operational rates of exchange published by the United Nations Treasury. The rates used for 2017 are:

- 1.00 USD = 0.986 CHF
- 1.00 USD = 0.891 EUR

Most participating organizations operate across multiple geographies and procure in multiple currencies. Each organization determines how it converts from the original currency into currency reported for the ASR.

Unless otherwise stated, changes in procurement volume in either absolute or percentage terms refer to year on year changes from 2016 to 2017.

There may be slight differences between sums of numbers presented in tables and figures in the report and the given totals. This is due to rounding.

Categorization

To enable reporting on categories of goods and services across all UN organizations, participating organizations are requested to provide procurement data based on the United Nations Standard Products and Services Code® (UNSPSC)<sup>5</sup> standard, at the most detailed level possible. The UNSPSC is a publicly available multi-sector standard for classification of goods and services. It is a four-level category hierarchy – the four-levels are segment, family, class and commodity. Minor adaptations have been made for the purposes of presentation in the ASR – further details are provided in Annex III – Sectors and category names.

Most organizations are able to provide data at UNSPSC family level, the second level in the UNSPSC hierarchy; however, some organizations are limited to providing information only at UNSPSC segment level – the top level of the hierarchy. Analysis in the report is based on categorization at the segment and family levels. In some limited cases, organizations are unable to provide information on the categorization of goods and services procured, in which case this data is reported as unspecified goods and unspecified services.

In addition to categorization based on the UNSPSC hierarchy, the ASR also uses sector grouping of goods and services based on areas of focus for the UN. For the 2017 ASR, some minor amendments were made to the categorization of certain areas of spend to better reflect the nature of the procurement in the UN context. Where comparison is provided to the 2016 procurement, consistent categorization has been applied to both years. For this reason, there may be small discrepancies with information presented in the 2016 ASR.

Supplier country

Throughout this report, the terms 'country' or 'countries' refer to countries and territories. Unless otherwise stated, they refer to supplier countries reported by the submitting organization. Many UN organizations cannot report data based on country of origin of goods due to the technical limitation of the procurement systems in use.

Country names, as well as their designation by geographic region, follow the Standard Country or Area Codes for Statistical Use, referred to as the 'M49 standard' (prepared by the Statistics Division of the United Nations Secretariat).<sup>6</sup>

There is no established convention for the designation of development status countries or areas in the United Nations system. However, for analytical purposes, this report classifies all countries into one of four broad categories: developed countries; developing countries; countries with economies in transition, and least developed countries (LDCs). The ASR follows the country categorizations defined by UNCTADstat,<sup>7</sup> with the exception of LDCs, for which the M49 standard is followed.

The designations employed do not imply the expression of any opinion whatsoever on the part of the UN concerning the legal status of any country, territory, city or area or of its authorities, or concerning the delimitation of its frontiers or boundaries. The assignment of countries or areas to specific groupings is for statistical convenience and does not imply any assumption regarding political or other affiliation of countries or territories by the UN.

Statistics on Development Assistance Committee (DAC) Member Countries are published in the report. The DAC is a forum of the Organization for Economic Co-operation and Development (OECD) with 30 members, including the European Union.<sup>8</sup>

Where organizations were unable to provide supplier country information, it is reported under 'Unspecified Countries.'

For analysis where comparisons are made between supplier country and total procurement (for example, the proportion of procurement from developing countries as a percentage of procurement from all countries), adjustments have been made to only include data where the supplier country is known.

Supplier names

Supplier names are used in the analysis for procurement from companies participating in the United Nations Global Compact (UN Global Compact or UNGC participants), as explained further below, and published in the table of major contracts.

Where organizations are unable to provide the name of the supplier, the data is reported under 'Unspecified Supplier.' If the supplier name is protected for security reasons, the supplier name is reported under 'Name withheld for security reasons.'

For analysis based on supplier names and on total procurement (for example, the proportion of procurement from companies participating in the UN Global Compact as a percentage of procurement from all countries), adjustments have been made to only include data where the supplier name is known (not unspecified nor withheld for security reasons).

Collaborative procurement

For the 2017 ASR, data on collaborative procurement was collected for the second time, consistent with the definition of common procurement set out in the 'Harmonizing UN Procurement: Common UN procurement at the Country Level'. The types of common procurement considered in ASR are: minimal common procurement; using existing Long Term Agreements (LTAs) of other UN entities; using joint LTAs and contracts; using procurement services of other UN organization; procuring from another UN organization; and using a joint procurement team.

<sup>7</sup> For more information on United Nations Conference on Trade and Development country designations, visit http://unctadstat.unctad.org/EN/Classifications.html.

<sup>9</sup> United Nations High-Level Committee on Management Procurement Network (HLCM-PN) Working Group on Harmonization, Harmonizing UN Procurement: Common UN Procurement at the Country Level (2015) available from https://www.ungm.org/Areas/Public/Downloads/15_06%20HarmonizingUNProcurement_GUIDELINES_final.pdf.

For most organizations, this information is not recorded in ERP systems, and requires estimation and approximation by reporting organizations. In the analysis of collaborative procurement, data where the supplier name matches a recognized UN entity, as well as data flagged as collaborative by reporting organizations, is considered to be collaborative procurement. For the 2016, this data was reported separately, so care should be taken when comparing data published in the 2016 and 2017 reports.

Sustainable procurement

As in previous years, to enable reporting on the extent to which UN organizations have begun to integrate sustainability considerations into their procurement processes, a voluntary online survey was also conducted in parallel with the data collection process for the ASR.

Recognizing some of the existing limitations in capturing sustainable procurement data, the survey included both qualitative and quantitative metrics on sustainable procurement, across the following key themes.

- 1. Policy and strategy
- 2. Integration in procurement processes
- 3. Internal capacity development
- 4. Supplier engagement
- 5. UN Global Compact

The analysis presented on sustainable procurement does not reflect any judgements on any individual organization's progress on sustainable procurement. Rather it provides a snapshot of noteworthy trends within the UN system.

United Nations Global Compact

Since 2007, the ASR has examined procurement by UN organizations from companies participating in the UN Global Compact. In previous reports, the analysis of procurement from companies participating in the UN Global Compact was limited to suppliers above a procurement volume threshold of $30,000. This was due to historic limitations in the data available for analysis, and for consistency in analysis between years. However, due to increased data collection in recent years, this year's report does not apply a volume threshold, thus providing more accurate results and consistency with the analysis in other parts of the report. As with previous years, supplier names and countries from all UN organizations that submitted data for the ASR were cross-referenced with the list of companies participating in the UN Global Compact, as of 31 December 2017. Suppliers for which names were either not specified by the submitting organization or withheld for security reasons were excluded from the analysis.

Given the change in methodology, care should be taken when comparing the results in this report with analysis from previous reports. For this report, data from 2015 and 2016 has been re-analyzed and re-stated using the revised methodology to ensure comparability between years.

The UN system does not give preferential treatment to companies participating in the UN Global Compact, but strongly encourages suppliers to actively participate.

01 EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

The overall procurement volume of United Nations (UN) organizations increased for a sixth consecutive year, reaching $18.6 billion in 2017 – an increase of 5.1 per cent or $910 million compared to 2016. The increase was driven largely by a 9.1 per cent or $823 million increase in procurement of services, while procurement of goods rose by a more modest 1.0 per cent or $87 million.

In 2017, 40 UN organizations reported procurement statistics, compared to 39 in 2016. The International Monetary Fund (IMF), which did not submit procurement statistics in 2016, procured $272 million of goods and services in 2017. The underlying growth in overall procurement (excluding IMF) was 3.6 per cent, or $638 million.

The growth was largely attributable to increases in procurement by the United Nations Development Programme (UNDP), United Nations Office for Project Services (UNOPS), the Pan American Health Organization (PAHO) and the World Food Programme (WFP). Collectively those organizations added an additional $831 million in procurement volume compared to 2016.

The United Nations Procurement Division (UNPD), the World Health Organization (WHO) and the United Nations Children's Fund (UNICEF) all reported significant reductions in procurement volume in 2017, totalling ($633 million). The UNICEF reduction was attributed mainly to cost savings in the procurement of pharmaceuticals.

For each year since 2013, 32 of the 40 UN organizations have reported procurement for the ASR. The combined volume of their procurement has increased 9.7 per cent over that period, from $16.1 billion in 2013 to $17.6 billion in 2017.

The largest segments of procurement in 2017, by volume, were Pharmaceuticals, Contraceptives, Vaccines ($2.6 billion), Transportation, Storage, Mail Services ($2.3 billion) and Food and Beverage Products ($1.9 billion).

Major countries of supply to the UN system in 2017

In 2017, the UN system procured goods and services from 223 countries and territories, including all 193 UN Member States. One hundred and twenty-six countries and territories had a procurement volume of more than $10 million.

The top ten supplier countries, by volume, in 2017 accounted for $7.5 billion (or 40.2 per cent) of the total procurement volume. The concentration of procurement has diminished compared to previous years: the top ten supplier countries accounted for 44.6 per cent of total procurement volume in 2016, and 44.8 per cent in 2015.

In 2017, the top ten supplier countries included three developing countries (India, United Arab Emirates and Kenya), with combined procurement of $2.2 billion, representing 29.5 per cent of the top ten total and 11.8 per cent of total UN procurement for 2017.

The United States of America remained the largest supplier country to the UN in 2017, increasing by 9.8 per cent to $1.7 billion. The increase was driven by higher expenditure on Management and Administrative Services (an increase of $108 million or 49.5 per cent, $91 million of which was attributed to IMF). The largest area of procurement was in Pharmaceuticals, Contraceptives, Vaccines, procured primarily by UNICEF and PAHO. Overall expenditure in this segment, however decreased by $83.5 million (19.2 per cent).

UN total	8,796.4	9,826.3	18,622.7		5.1%

India was again the second largest supplier country, having been a top ten supplier country since 2000. Procurement from suppliers in India, however, fell by 14.8 per cent or $158 million to $907 million. The reduction of procurement from Indian suppliers was predominantly due to a decrease in Pharmaceuticals, Contraceptives, Vaccines of $86 million (11.8 per cent) from 2016 to 2017. It nevertheless remained the largest procurement area, representing 70.8 per cent of total procurement from Indian suppliers. The second largest area of spending in India in 2017 was Engineering and Research Services, which increased by $14 million to $45 million; almost half of this total was related to Computer Services. Procurement of Food and Beverage Products from Indian suppliers decreased by $51 million (80.2 per cent).

The United Arab Emirates was the third largest supplier country, moving up from fourth place in 2016 despite recording an 8.3 per cent reduction in procurement volume from 2016 to 2017. The country was the largest supplier country of Fuels and Lubricants etc to the UN system, supplying 43.3 per cent of the total $612 million spent in the segment. It was the second largest supplier country for Food and Beverage Products after Turkey. Expenditure in this segment from United Arab Emirates suppliers, however, fell by $20 million, or 7.3 per cent, from 2016 to 2017.

Kenya was a new addition to the top ten supplier countries in 2017, with its reported procurement volume increasing from $395 million to $503 million. This was largely due to an additional $63 million in procurement by WFP, predominantly on Transportation, Storage, Mail Services and Food and Beverage Products. The Food and Agriculture Organization (FAO) more than tripled its procurement from suppliers in Kenya, from $8.8 million in 2016 to $27 million in 2017. FAO procurement in Kenya was focused on Vocational Training Services ($7.3 million) and Animal Feed ($1.9 million). WFP had the largest procurement from suppliers in Kenya - $146 million in total - while UNPD was the second largest procuring organization with $136 million in 2017.

After joining the top ten supplier countries in 2016, Turkey dropped to be the country with the 11th largest procurement volume in 2017. Procurement from Turkey fell by $188 million (28.9 per cent), due largely to a $228 million (48.6 per cent) reduction in expenditure on Food and Beverage Products by WFP (offset somewhat by increases in other areas).

The other countries in the top ten countries by procurement volume remained the same as in 2016. Among them, Belgium fell to fourth place on the list after spending with Belgian suppliers declined by 20.7 per cent, primarily on Pharmaceuticals, Contraceptives, Vaccines ($161 million less in 2017 than in 2016). France moved up to fifth place, due to an additional $66 million procurement by UNOPS of Laboratory and Scientific Equipment and an additional $33 million on Clinical Nutrition goods by UNICEF. Switzerland moved up two places with a 24.3 per cent ($107 million) improvement in procurement volume, including an additional $33 million procurement of Engineering and Research Services. The United Kingdom of Great Britain and Northern Ireland (UK) experienced an 8.3 per cent ($50 million) decrease compared to 2016, due primarily to a reduction in UNPD expenditure on Office Equipment from suppliers in the UK - offset somewhat by a $81 million increase in procurement from WFP.

Procurement volume by region of supplier in 2017

Procurement increased from the Africa, Latin America and the Caribbean and Northern America regions in 2017, while decreasing in other regions. Procurement from suppliers in Africa increased the most in absolute terms – by $473 million, or 15.9 per cent, to $3.4 billion in 2017. It also experienced the highest increase in the share of total UN procurement, increasing from 17.3 per cent in 2016 to 19.2 per cent in 2017. Latin America and the Caribbean had the largest increase in percentage terms, with procurement from suppliers in the region increasing by 39.0 per cent to $1.2 billion in 2017. Asia remained the region with the highest procurement volume, but saw a $129 million (2.2 per cent) reduction compared to 2016 – the largest decrease in absolute terms of any region.

The increased procurement volume in Africa was due particularly to WFP and UNDP, which increased expenditure in the region by $470 million and $128 million respectively, primarily on Transportation, Storage, Mail Services, Food and Beverage Products and Engineering and Research Services. WFP's procurement from suppliers in Nigeria increased from $41 million to $116 million and in Kenya from $84 million to $146 million, while UNDP spent $40 million more with suppliers in Senegal than it had in 2016.

There was a large increase in procurement from Latin America and the Caribbean, due primarily to an additional $247 million in procurement by UNOPS from suppliers in Argentina (up from $0.6 million in 2016), mainly on Computer Equipment and Accessories and Computer Services. UN procurement from Argentina increased from $21 million in 2016 to $279 million in 2017. PAHO also increased its procurement in the region, by $123 million, or 145 per cent. The largest decrease in the region was in Peru, where the procurement volume fell by $140 million, to $54 million.

In the Asia region, there were increases in procurement from Iraq, Singapore and Yemen, between them accounting for an increase of $607 million from 2016 to 2017. Yemen experienced one of the largest increases in procurement, up from $326 million in 2016 to $434 million in 2017. This was due in part to $197 million in additional procurement by UNICEF on Financial and Insurance Services, while WFP procured an additional $68 million of Transportation, Storage, Mail Services and $29 million of Food and Beverage Products. However, there was a net decrease in procurement of $129 million in the Asia region, due in part to decreased procurement by WFP - $572 million less from suppliers in the region in 2017 than in 2016.

The decrease in expenditure in Europe was influenced by falls in procurement in Denmark ($231 million fall or 31.3 per cent, mostly attributed to UNPD), Belgium ($187 million or 20.7 per cent, primarily with UNICEF), and the UK ($50 million or 8.3 per cent decrease). However, procurement from Switzerland, Austria and the Netherlands increased by $279 million combined.

The procurement volume from suppliers where the supplier country is unknown declined, by $417 million, to $664 million in 2017. This was due to some participating organizations improving the supplier country data in their 2017 submissions. Ninety-three per cent of procurement volume where the supplier country was unknown came from IOM, which was unable to specify supplier countries for any of its procurement. IOM procurement volume in 2017 was $618 million.

Procurement from developing countries, countries with economies in transition and least developed countries

In 2002, the General Assembly requested the Secretary–General to encourage organizations of the UN system to take further steps to increase procurement opportunities for suppliers from developing countries and countries with economies in transition.<sup>11</sup> In response, and in line with the 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development, UN organizations have continued to increase procurement from these countries, and 2017 was no exception.

Procurement from developing countries, countries with economies in transition and LDCs increased in 2017, both in absolute terms (from $10.3 billion in 2016 to $11.0 billion in 2017) and as a percentage of overall UN procurement. This was driven by an increase of $636 million (26.5 per cent) in procurement from least developed countries (LDCs) compared to 2016, representing 16.9 per cent of total UN procurement volume in 2017. Meanwhile, the percentage of procurement volume from developing countries and countries with economies in transition together declined from 46.3 per cent to 44.1 per cent.<sup>12</sup>

Of the $11.0 billion goods and services procurement in 2017 from developing countries, countries with economies in transition and LDCs, 62.9 per cent was procured from 20 countries. Fourteen of these countries experienced an increase in procurement compared to 2016, most notably Argentina and Yemen, as described earlier.

<sup>12</sup> Calculation of percentages related to procurement by country development status excludes procurement where the supplier country is unknown.

Table 1.2 shows the top 20 countries by procurement volume of developing countries, countries with economies in transition and LDCs in 2017. In addition to Argentina and Yemen, countries new to this table are Brazil, Nigeria and Panama: there was an additional $226 million in procurement from suppliers in those countries in 2017. The countries that dropped out of the top 20 list were Afghanistan, the Democratic Republic of the Congo, Pakistan, Peru and Ukraine.

Procurement by organizations of the UN system

Table 1.3 shows the procurement volume for 2017 by UN organization, including their respective shares of procurement from developing countries, countries with economies in transition and LDCs. The largest ten organizations by procurement volume in 2017 accounted for $16.3 billion (87.3 per cent) of total procurement volume, compared to $15.8 billion (89.4 per cent) in 2016. While those ten organizations increased their procurement volumes by 2.6 per cent on average, the other organizations increased theirs by an average of 12.3 per cent.<sup>13</sup>

<sup>13</sup> Excludes IMF, which reported in 2017 but not 2016. If IMF is included, the other organizations' volume increased 26.9 per cent.

In 2017, 29 of the 40 reporting organizations experienced an increase in procurement volume compared to 2016. Fourteen of these saw their procurement volume rise by more than 20 per cent.

Calculation of share of procurement from developing countries, countries with economies in transition and LDCs excludes data where the supplier country is unknown.

* Supplier country known for only part of data (FAO 94%, ILO 95% by volume). ^ IOM did not report on supplier countries in 2017.

UNDP experienced the largest absolute increase, of $420 million (or 24.7 per cent), to $2.1 billion. This was attributed to increased procurement activity, particularly in the areas of Health (including $84 million extra spending on Hormones and Hormone Antagonists), and Construction and Engineering (including $74 million additional spending on Professional Engineering Services and an increase of $131 million on Building and Facility Management and Repair Services.

UNOPS experienced the second highest increase in procurement volume in absolute terms. Its volume increased by 18.7 per cent, from $900 million in 2016 to $1.1 billion in 2017. This was associated with increased expenditure on information and communications technology goods and services in Argentina, as well as procurement of an additional $72 million of Laboratory and Scientific Equipment compared to 2016, mainly from French suppliers, and $107 million of Motor Vehicles, up from $81 million in 2016, predominantly from Japan.

Ten organizations reported a decrease in procurement compared to 2016. The largest decrease in absolute terms was $486 million (or 15.0 per cent) by UNPD. This was due to a combination of downsizing of some field missions, savings in air transportation, and a change in the procurement approach for some security services. The WHO experienced a $135 million reduction in expenditure on Comprehensive Health Services, which was offset, in part, by increased expenditure on Medical Equipment ($17 million more than 2016); however, the organization reported an overall reduction in procurement of $90 million.

UNICEF, the largest organization by procurement volume, reported a 27.6 per cent increase in procurement of services and an 11.1 per cent decrease in the procurement of goods, resulting in an overall decrease of 1.6 per cent compared to 2016. This included a reduction of $322 million in the procurement of Pharmaceuticals, Contraceptives and Vaccines, driven primarily by price savings.

Some organizations experienced substantive changes in procurement volume due to changes in the way their procurement data was collected. For example, the implementation of a new global resource planning system enabled the International Labour Organization (ILO) to improve the completeness of its reporting in 2017, contributing to a 32.0 per cent increase in reported procurement compared to 2016.

Table 1.3 shows the proportion of procurement from developing countries, countries with economies in transition and LDCs by UN organization. Of the organizations with a procurement volume of more than $100 million, the United Nations Relief and Works Agency for Palestine Refugees in the Near East (UNRWA) had the highest proportion (83.4 per cent or $203 million) of procurement coming from developing countries, countries with economies in transition and LDCs.

In terms of volume, WFP procured the most from developing countries, countries with economies in transition and LDCs in 2017 ($2.2 billion); however, this proportion dropped from 79.9 per cent in 2016 to 73.0 per cent of total procurement volume in 2017. Among the top ten organizations by procurement volume, UNICEF, UNPD, UNDP, the Office of the United Nations High Commissioner for Refugees (UNHCR), UNOPS and PAHO increased their proportion of procurement volume from developing countries, countries with economies in transition and LDCs in 2017. The proportion of procurement from these countries for the top ten organizations by total procurement volume is shown in Figure 1.4.

Figure 1.4 – Procurement by UN organizations from developing countries, countries with economies in transition and least developed countries, 2016-2017 (top ten organizations by total procurement value)

Procurement by category of goods and services

The ASR collects information from participating organizations on the nature of goods and services procured based on the United Nations Standard Products and Services Code® (UNSPSC) standard. The UNSPSC hierarchy of product segments, families, classes and commodities is used for categorizing and reporting on procured goods, services and works in the ASR. In addition, the ASR uses sectors of procurement, bringing together goods and services linked to areas of focus for the UN.

Across the reporting organizations, procurement volume in the sector Consultancy, Administration and Operations increased, by $685 million, to $4.0 billion in 2017, with UNDP, UNICEF and UNHCR being the largest procurers in the sector.<sup>14</sup> On the other hand, expenditure in the second largest sector, Health, representing $3.7 billion in procurement, saw the largest decrease in 2017, falling $230 million from 2016, due to a decreased procurement volume of Pharmaceuticals, Contraceptives and Vaccines. In 2017, 19.2 per cent of data (by procurement volume) was reported only at the highest 'segment' level, under the UNSPSC hierarchy, while 80.8 per cent was reported at a minimum of family level and 21.9 per cent was reported at the most specific commodity level. In general, organizations were able to improve the level of specificity in their reporting in 2017.

Table 1.4 – Top ten categories of procurement by volume, UNSPSC segment level, 2017

Category (UNSPSC segment level)	Total 2017 (USD m)	Total change 2016-2017 (%)	Share of procurement from developing countries, countries with economies in transition and LDCs 2017 (%)

Top 10 total	13,782.4
UN total	18,622.7

In 2017, procurement was recorded against 57 different UNSPSC segments (the same number as in 2016). The ten largest segments by procurement volume are shown in Table 1.4. The largest segments were Pharmaceuticals, Contraceptives, Vaccines ($2.6 billion), Transportation, Storage, Mail Services ($2.3 billion) and Food and Beverage Products ($1.9 billion). Pharmaceuticals, Contraceptives, Vaccines was the segment that realized the largest decrease in absolute terms in 2017 compared to 2016, while expenditure in the Travel, Food and Lodging segment increased the most, more than doubling from $265 million in 2016 to $559 million. This was due, in part, to increased reporting of travel expenditure in 2017 compared to 2016.

There were 53 different UNSPSC segments of goods and services with the procurement volume above $1 million in 2017. Of these, in 44 segments, more than 50 per cent of the procurement by volume was from developing countries, countries with economies in transition and LDCs. Total procurement from these 44 segments was $13.1 billion. There were 15 segments where more than 80 per cent of procurement volume was from developing countries, countries with economies in transition and LDCs, representing $1.6 billion of procurement.

<sup>14</sup> Some changes to improve the assignment of UNSPSC codes to sectors mean the results presented here are not directly comparable to the 2016 report. More information on sectors used is in Annex III – Sectors and category names.

Least developed countries

The UNSPSC segment Fuels and Lubricants etc. was the largest where procurement from developing countries, countries with economies in transition and LDCs represented more than 80 per cent of the total procurement volume. Of the total $612 million procured in this segment in 2017, $358 million was from developing countries and countries with economies in transition, and $213 million was from LDCs. UNPD was the largest procuring organization in this segment ($398 million).

Of the segments where procurement was predominantly from developed countries in percentage terms, Pharmaceuticals, Contraceptives, Vaccines was the largest, with $1.6 billion of the total $2.6 billion from developed countries. However, India was the largest supplier country for this segment, with $642 million procurement in 2017.

The calculation of percentages in this analysis excludes procurement where the supplier country is unknown. Of the $664 million procurement volume in 2017 where the supplier country is unknown, $203 million was in the Building and Maintenance Services segment and $80 million was for Transportation, Storage, Mail Services.

Further information about procurement by category is in chapter 3.

Sustainable procurement in the UN system

This purchasing power of UN organizations can be used to advance sustainable development through the incorporation of sustainability considerations into the procurement process.

Sustainable procurement is defined as "practices that integrate requirements, specifications and criteria that are compatible and in favour of the protection of the environment, of social progress and in support of economic development, namely by seeking resource efficiency, improving the quality of products and services and ultimately optimizing costs." As part of the ASR, organizations were able to report on the extent to which sustainability considerations have been integrated into their procurement processes.

<sup>15</sup> UN High Level Committee on Management Procurement Network (HLCM, PN) and adopted in Vienna, February 2009.

A further ten organizations provided information on sustainable procurement in 2017: 38 of the 40 organizations providing procurement data for the ASR submitted sustainable procurement information, compared to 28 out of 39 in 2016. Together, the reporting organizations accounted for 97.4 per cent of total UN procurement (see Figure 1.6).

Formalization of sustainable procurement through high-level commitment continued to be important for reporting organizations. Twenty out of the 38 reporting organizations noted they had adopted or were planning to adopt a policy on sustainable procurement while 17 noted the same for a sustainable procurement strategy.

Whether in possession of such a high-level document or not, 33 organizations in 2017 noted that they were applying some sort of sustainable procurement initiative, with the majority employing a total cost of ownership approach in their financial evaluations. Many organizations continued to incorporate sustainability criteria into the requirements definitions of their tenders.

Amongst the types of sustainable procurement considerations that can be incorporated in procurement processes, economic considerations continued to be applied most often, by 68.4 per cent of reporting organizations, followed closely by environmental and, third, social considerations.

Reporting organizations made considerable progress on their internal capacity development. In 2017, 22 out of 38 organizations reported they had trained or were planning to train their procurers in sustainability, compared to 13 out of 28 organizations in 2016.

In terms of supplier engagement, more than half of the reporting organizations said that they verify the adherence of suppliers to the United Nations Supplier Code of Conduct, a slight improvement compared to 2016. However, the number of organizations that reported they engage with their suppliers to enhance their capacity to deliver more sustainable products decreased compared to 2016.

ASR procurement data was also analyzed to determine the share of procurement from companies participating in the UN Global Compact. The UN Global Compact is a voluntary global corporate sustainability initiative, calling on companies and other social actors to align their strategies and operations with universal principles on human rights, labour, the environment and anti-corruption. In 2017, procurement from companies participating in the UN Global Compact accounted for 15.9 per cent of total UN procurement, and continued a decreasing trend as noted in previous years. While procurement from participating companies declined consistently in most regions, it increased substantially in the Latin America and Caribbean region.

Further information about sustainable procurement is available in chapter 4.

<sup>16</sup> Data excludes suppliers where names were unknown or withheld for security reasons (7.0 per cent of total UN procurement volume).

PROCUREMENT FROM DEVELOPING COUNTRIES,

PROCUREMENT FROM DEVELOPING COUNTRIES, COUNTRIES WITH ECONOMIES IN TRANSITION AND LEAST DEVELOPED COUNTRIES

Increasing the involvement of suppliers from developing countries is a priority for the UN. In addition to the benefits realized by the recipients of goods and services the UN procures, procurement from developing countries can help to stimulate capacity growth, economic activity and employment where the goods and services are created. In 2002, the General Assembly requested the Secretary-General of the UN to encourage organizations of the UN system to take further steps to increase procurement opportunities for suppliers from developing countries and countries with economies in transition. <sup>17</sup> In response, and in line with the 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development, UN organizations have continued to increase procurement from these countries each year.

As shown in Figure 2.1, in 2017, procurement from developing countries, countries with economies in transition and least developed countries (LDCs) increased by $603 million (5.8 per cent) from 2016, outpacing the rate of growth in total UN procurement over the same period. Procurement from LDCs was the main driver of growth, while procurement from developing countries and countries with economies in transition declined.

Figure 2.1 – Procurement volume from developed countries, countries with economies in transition and developing countries and least developed countries, 2013-2017

Following a 23.3 per cent drop from 2015 to 2016, in part due to the absence of UNDP National Implementation Modality (NIM) related procurement from the 2016 report onwards, <sup>18</sup> procurement from LDCs increased $636 million (26.5 per cent) from 2016 to 2017.

While procurement from LDCs increased, procurement from developing countries and countries with economies in transition had a slight decrease of 0.4 per cent ($33 million) from 2016 to 2017.

In 2017, participating organizations submitted supplier country information for data equivalent to 96.5 per cent of the total UN procurement volume. For $664 million of the procurement volume recorded, the supplier country is unknown (down from $1.1 billion). This improvement was due to some participating organizations improving the supplier country data in their 2017 submissions. Most organizations submitted between 93.7 per cent and 100 per cent of their procurement data with supplier country information. <sup>19</sup> In the following analysis, percentages are adjusted to include only data where the supplier country is known.

As shown in Figure 2.2, as a share of total UN procurement, procurement from LDCs increased from 14.0 per cent in 2016 to 16.9 per cent in 2017, while procurement from developing countries and countries with economies in transition fell from 46.3 per cent to 44.1 per cent in the same period.

Figure 2.2 – Share of procurement volume from developed countries, countries with economies in transition and least developed countries, 2013-2017

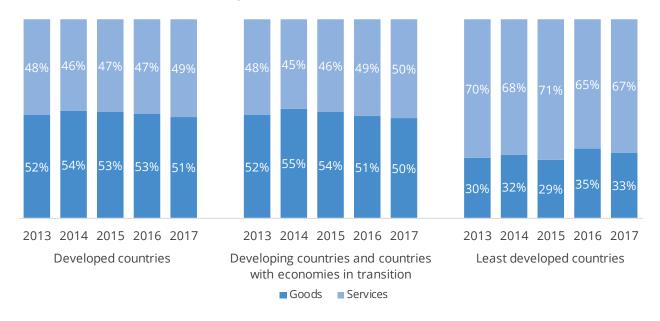

<sup>18</sup> The reported decrease in procurement volume from 2015 to 2016 was $497 million for developing countries, countries with economies in transition and LDCs, including a $728 million decrease for LDCs. However, when making a like-for-like comparison, by excluding NIM from the reported volume for 2015, these figures change to an overall increase of $707 million for all developing countries, countries with economies in transition and LDCs from 2015 to 2016, including a decrease of $177 million for LDCs. Starting with the 2016 ASR, NIM data was no longer included in order to improve the quality and comparability of the procurement data across organizations. More information can be found in the 2016 ASR.

<sup>19</sup> IOM was unable to specify supplier countries for any of its procurement.

Figure 2.3 shows how the distribution of goods and services procurement differs by country grouping and over time. For developed countries, the distribution between the procurement volume by goods and services has remained relatively consistent from 2013 to 2017. For developing countries and countries with economies in transition, in 2017 the procurement of services by volume was the same volume of procurement of goods – prior to 2017, procurement of goods outweighed procurement of services. The distribution for procurement from LDCs in 2017 had an increase of services procurement of two percentage points from 2016. As explained in the 2016 report, the relative increase in goods procurement from LDCs between 2015 and 2016 was due to the removal of UNDP NIM related procurement from the 2016 report onwards.

Figure 2.3 – Procurement of goods and services from developed countries, developing countries, countries with economies in transition, and least developed countries, 2013–2017

Procurement from developing countries, countries with economies in transition and least developed countries by category

The major categories of procurement vary for developed countries, developing countries and countries with economies in transition, and LDCs. Figure 2.4 looks at UN system procurement broken down into five high–level groups, based on the UNSPSC standard. It shows procurement in these groups in 2017 for each supplier country development status.

Compared to 2016, in developing countries and countries with economies in transition, the proportion of total spend on End Use Products decreased by 1.6 percentage points in 2017, while Services increased 1.3 percentage points. In LDCs, the proportion of procurement of Services rose 1.6 percentage points and End Use Products rose 1.1 percentage points, while the proportion of spend on Raw Materials fell 1.3 percentage points and Industrial Equipment fell 1.0 percentage point.<sup>20</sup>

<sup>20</sup> Data where the nature of the good or service is unknown or unspecified are excluded from this analysis. This accounts for approximately $128 million or 0.7% of the total UN procurement volume.

Figure 2.4 – Procurement from developed countries, developing countries and countries with economies in transition, and least developed countries, by UNSPSC groups, 2017

As in previous years, procurement of Services was the largest area of spend in 2017 in all country groupings. This was particularly strong in LDCs, where 66.9 per cent of procurement (or $2.0 billion) was for Services. The largest UNSPSC segments of spend in this group are Transportation, Storage, Mail Services, Management and Administrative Services and Building and Maintenance Services.

End Use Products was the second largest area of spend in all country groups. This area includes Food and Beverage Products, which was the largest UNSPSC segment for LDCs and developing countries and countries with economies in transition. Pharmaceuticals, Contraceptives, Vaccines was the largest UNSPSC segment for procurement from developed countries.

Raw Materials was the third largest area of spend for LDCs, developing countries and countries with economies in transition, representing 8.8 per cent ($266 million) and 5.1 per cent ($406 million) of procurement volume, respectively. In these country groups, most of the procurement volume was attributed to the procurement of Fuels and Lubricants. In fact, 93.8 per cent of UN procurement of Fuels and Lubricants was procured from LDCs ($213 million) and developing countries and countries with economies in transition ($358 million). Fuels and Lubricants was the UNSPSC family with the highest procurement volume in 2017 where more than 90 per cent was procured from LDCs and developing countries and countries with economies in transition, as shown in Figure 2.5.

UN organizations reported procurement against 375 different UNSPSC families in 2017. Of these, there were 224 families with procurement volume in excess of $1 million. Overall, there were 254 UNSPSC families where the proportion of spend with developing countries and countries with economies in transition, and LDCs, was at least 50 per cent.

Figure 2.5 shows the top 50 UNSPSC families by procurement volume. On a procurement volume basis, the UNSPSC family with the highest spend in LDCs was Mail and Cargo Transport ($364 million), followed by Fuels ($206 million). Passenger Transport was the largest UNSPSC family by spend for developing countries and countries with economies in transition ($424 million), followed by Business Administration Services ($408 million).

Figure 2.5 – Distribution of categories of goods and services by supplier country development status (top 50 UNSPSC family level by total procurement volume)

When looking at the proportion of spend, Security and Personal Safety was the UNSPSC family in 2017 with the highest proportion of spend in LDCs (51.0 per cent or $79 million), followed by Heavy Construction Services (47.2 per cent or $34 million). For developing countries and countries with economies in transition, the UNSPSC families with the highest proportion of procurement volume were Edible Oils and Fats (94.9 per cent or $170 million) and Prepared and Preserved Foods (93.1 per cent or $382 million).

Procurement from least developed countries

The UN has placed increased focus on LDCs since their official classification by the UN General Assembly in 1971. These countries are the most vulnerable and disadvantaged members of the UN. In 2015, the ASR began reporting on procurement by UN organizations from suppliers in LDCs.

LDC procurement by country

Table 2.1 and Table 2.2 show the LDCs with which UN organizations have reported procurement in 2016 and 2017. Yemen and Sudan had the biggest procurement volume increases ($326 million and $81 million respectively). Yemen surpassed Ethiopia as the top LDC supplier country by procurement volume in 2017. The increase in procurement from suppliers in Yemen was driven primarily by UNICEF, as described earlier. In the case of Sudan, the increase was driven by WFP ($51 million), UNPD ($13 million) and UNDP ($13 million) mainly in Cereal and Pulse Products ($37 million), Fuels ($11 million), Mail and Cargo Transport ($10 million).

Other LDCs that experienced notable changes in procurement volume include Uganda, Rwanda, Mali and Malawi. Procurement from suppliers in Uganda and Rwanda rose $71 million (58.3 per cent) and $33 million (105 per cent) respectively from 2016 to 2017, primarily due to increased expenditure on Food and Beverage Products by WFP, and in the case of Uganda also on Transportation, Storage, Mail Services by the same organization. However, procurement from Mali fell $28 million (25.2 per cent) and $17 million in Malawi (23.2 per cent) due to decreased procurement volume from UNPD and WFP, respectively.

LDC procurement by organization

Figure 2.6 shows the proportion of total procurement volume from LDCs in 2016 and 2017 for the top ten UN organizations by total procurement volume. The UN average procurement proportion from suppliers in LDCs increased from 14.0 per cent in 2016 to 16.9 per cent in 2017. This was influenced by increased expenditure with LDC suppliers from the largest five organizations by procurement volume.

WFP procured an additional $373 million from LDC suppliers in 2017 compared to 2016, and was the largest procurer from LDCs by volume (total $1.0 billion in 2017). This was helped by increased expenditure on Transportation, Storage, Mail Services (increased 84.8 per cent to $434 million in 2017), Food and Beverage Products ($300 million in LDCs in 2017, compared to $170 million in 2016), and Fuels (increased from $90 million in 2016 to $104 million in 2017).

Despite an overall decline in procurement of $57 million, UNICEF spent an additional $197 million with LDC suppliers in 2017 compared to 2016, translating to an increase in spend with LDC suppliers as a proportion of the total UNICEF procurement volume from 11.3 per cent to 17.3 per cent. This was primarily due to an additional $196 million spend on Financial and Insurance Services in Yemen compared to 2016, as well as increased expenditure on educational equipment and Management and Business Professionals. This increase was offset somewhat by a reduction of $30.1 million expenditure on Building and Maintenance Services.

Figure 2.6 – Proportion of organizations' procurement volume from least developed countries, 2016–2017 (top 10 organizations by total procurement volume)

Meanwhile, the procurement from suppliers in LDCs by UNOPS dropped from 16.9 per cent to 11.3 per cent of the organization's procurement from 2016 to 2017. This was due to reduced procurement volume in Somalia ($10 million less), Afghanistan ($9.1 million reduction) and Democratic Republic of the Congo (down from $9.7 million to $2.5 million) in particular; however, procurement volume in Myanmar increased by $15 million.

WHO's procurement from suppliers in LDCs decreased from $151 million in 2016 to $93 million in 2017. This was a result of decreased expenditure on Healthcare Services ($35 million or 42.0 per cent less) in a number of LDCs including Ethiopia, Afghanistan and Democratic Republic of the Congo, and on Accounting and Bookkeeping Services ($16 million reduction compared to 2016), particularly in Afghanistan.

FAO remained the largest procurer from LDCs in terms of the proportion of total procurement volume,<sup>21</sup> but the proportion reduced from 35.8 per cent in 2016 to 30.5 per cent (its procurement from LDCs increased $0.4 million in the context of an increase of $54 million across all countries).

LDC procurement by category

Table 2.3 shows the UNSPSC segments that recorded the highest procurement volume from suppliers in LDCs in 2017. The top ten segments accounted for 76.1 per cent of the total volume procured from LDC suppliers (increasing from 73.6 per cent in 2016).

The Transportation, Storage, Mail Services segment was the largest, with $646 million or 21.3 per cent of total spend in LDCs. Spend in this segment increased $204 million from 2016 to 2017, and $199 million of this increase was attributed to WFP. The second highest spend was on Food and Beverage Products, which increased $127 million or 72.7 per cent, again driven primarily by WFP.

Financial and Insurance Services joined the top ten list in 2017 with $216 million procurement from LDCs. $198 million of this was procured by UNICEF. By contrast, spend in the Healthcare Services segment dropped 36.6 per cent to $57 million from 2016 to 2017, meaning it fell just outside the top ten UNSPSC families from LDCs in 2017.

PROCUREMENT BY SECTORS AND CATEGORIES OF GOODS AND SERVICES

PROCUREMENT BY SECTORS AND CATEGORIES OF GOODS AND SERVICES

The Annual Statistical Report collects information from participating organizations about the nature of goods and services procured based on the United Nations Standard Products and Services Code® (UNSPSC). For 2017, 80.8 per cent of all reported UN procurement was submitted at a minimum of UNSPSC family level.<sup>22</sup> This is an improvement from 2016 where 71.2 per cent of the data was provided at this level. However, the remaining 19.2 per cent of reported data in 2017 still remains on a more general level and will be displayed with the UNSPSC segment title.

Procurement sectors refer to groupings of goods and services that are aligned with areas of focus for the UN. Each sector includes goods and services categories from different UNSPSC segments and families. Figure 3.1 shows the distribution of 2017 UN system procurement by sector.

Combined, the five largest sectors of procurement accounted for 79.7 per cent (80.1 per cent in 2016) of total procurement in the UN system in 2017.

In 2017, the Consultancy, Administration and Operations sector increased its share of total UN procurement by 2.8 percentage points ($685 million) compared to 2016, surpassing the Health sector to be the largest in terms of procurement volume. The sector, which includes goods and services procured for administrative services or operations support to UN activities, represented 21.3 per cent of total UN procurement.

<sup>22</sup> The UNSPSC category classification system categorizes goods and services following a four level hierarchy. 'Family' designates the second highest level of categorization, which classifies goods and services into more than 500 categories. Twenty two per cent of data was provided at the UNSPSC commodity level, the most specific UNSPSC level used for the purposes of the ASR.

The Health sector diminished its share in the total UN procurement from 22.4 per cent in 2016 ($4.0 billion) to 20.1 per cent ($3.7 billion). The drop was mainly related to a reduction in procurement of Pharmaceuticals, Contraceptives and Vaccines and Comprehensive Health Services.

Transport, which includes both transport services and motor vehicles, continued to be the third largest procurement sector for UN organizations. The sector increased its share in total UN procurement from 16.2 per cent in 2016 to 16.4 per cent in 2017 – an increase of $175 million.

The Food and Farming sector (food, beverage, live plants and animals, farming accessories and services) had a minor decrease both in its total volume (a reduction of $11 million or 0.5 per cent) and in the total share of UN procurement (from 11.6 per cent to 11.0 per cent).

The fifth largest sector was Construction and Engineering (construction supplies and services, engineering services, structures). The sector had a minor increase in the procurement volume ($45 million), but a decrease in its share of total UN procurement (down 0.3 percentage points to 11.0 per cent).

The Peace and Security sector had a significant reduction. Total procurement volume went from $585 million in 2016 to $368 million in 2017, lowering its share of total UN procurement by 1.3 percentage.

The remaining five sectors (Humanitarian Aid, Climate Action, Energy, Education, and Clean Water and Sanitization) collectively increased their aggregate participation in total UN procurement by 0.2 percentage points in 2017.

The Other Goods and Services sector, which refers to goods and services that are not included within the previous categories, totalled $2.8 billion for 2017.

Consultancy, Administration and Operations

The Consultancy, Administration and Operations sector includes goods and services either directly procured in relation to ongoing programmes and projects, or for administrative services or operational support to UN activities.

In 2017, the sector increased its share to be the largest procurement sector of UN organizations procurement (from 18.5 to 21.3 per cent). The growth was driven by the addition of IMF as an ASR reporting organization ($148 million in this sector) and increased procurement in the sector by UNICEF (from $316 million to $546 million) and UNHCR (from $412 million to $515 million). This growth was mainly attributed to increased procurement in the Financial and Insurance Services (from $202 million to $438 million) and Engineering and Research Services (from $534 million to $725 million) UNSPSC segments.

Figure 3.2 – Top five categories at the UNSPSC segment level within the Consultancy, Administration and Operations sector, 2017 (USD million)

Within the Consultancy, Administration and Operations sector, the top ten categories reported at a UNSPSC family level represented 67.1 per cent of total procurement within the sector (Table 3.2). The main categories were Business Administration Services (17.2 per cent of sector procurement), Computer Services (11.5 per cent), Real Estate Services (9.4 per cent), Management Advisory Services (7.8 per cent). There was also considerable spend reported at the segment level, including Financial and Insurance Services (6.0 per cent), as well as Management and Administrative Services (5.3 per cent). For procurement in the Business Administration Services UNSPSC family, UNHCR was the largest procuring organization, with $306 million in this category in 2017 (44.9 per cent of all procurement within this category).

Five UN organizations were responsible for 61.2 per cent of procurement in the Consultancy, Administration and Operations sector (Table 3.3). The largest procuring organization in this sector was UNDP, responsible for $699 million or 17.6 per cent of total sector procurement. The second largest procuring organization in the sector was UNICEF, which recorded an increase in procurement volume of 73 per cent compared to 2016, mainly in UNSPSC segment Financial and Insurance Services procured from Yemen ($197 million) and Zimbabwe ($15 million). UNHCR also increased its procurement in the sector by 25.0 per cent compared to 2016, mainly in UNSPSC family Business Administration Services procured from Jordan ($99 million), Turkey ($45 million) and Iraq ($28 million). UNPD reduced its procurement in the sector by 9.1 per cent.

Thirty–six per cent of procurement in the Consultancy, Administration and Operations sector came from five countries (Table 3.4). The main country of supply for the sector was the United States of America, which maintained its share of the sector total but increased its total amount by $140 million (after the addition of $148 million by IMF and the decrease of other organizations). Switzerland also maintained its share of the sector total and increased its total amount by $48 million influenced by an increase in WHO procurement of $30 million). Yemen had a significant growth in the sector going from $18 million to $228 million, due to UNICEF procurement noted earlier. Jordan doubled its procurement volume for the sector ($183 million). The United Kingdom of Great Britain and Northern Ireland dropped its total procurement volume by $24 million.

Health

In 2017, Health became the second largest sector of UN procurement by volume ($3.7 billion), surpassed by the Consultancy, Administration and Operations sector. Spend in the Health sector reduced by $230 million representing 5.8 per cent in volume terms compared to 2016. The change was mainly due to reduced procurement in the segment by UNICEF (from $2.2 billion in 2016 to $1.9 million in 2017), influenced by price savings in the procurement of vaccines.

* Mosquito nets is a UNSPSC family within UNSPSC segment Sports and Recreational Equipment; however, for the purposes of the ASR it is reported within the Health sector.

Fifty per cent of Health sector procurement volume was reported only at a UNSPSC segment level, of which 91.9 per cent was UNICEF's Health procurement. Pharmaceuticals, Contraceptives, Vaccines continued to be the top UNSPSC segment with 70.7 per cent of overall Health UN procurement. Medical Equipment increased $120 million compared to 2016 and the procurement volume of Healthcare Services and Mosquito Nets decreased by $130 million and $12 million respectively.

For the remaining data, which was reported at a minimum of UNSPSC family level, the top ten Health categories are shown in Table 3.5 Immunomodulating Drugs was the top family with 16.1 per cent of the overall Health procurement, more than twice the size of any other single category. The next top categories were Comprehensive Health Services (7.5 per cent), Clinical Nutrition (5.9 per cent), Amebicides and Trichomonacides and Antiprotozoals (3.7 per cent) and Contraceptives incl. Condoms, Estrogen, Progestins (3.2 per cent).

Five UN organizations were responsible for 92.1 per cent of procurement in the Health sector in 2017 (Table 3.6). Even though UNICEF reduced its Health procurement from $2.2 billion in 2016 to $1.9 billion in 2017, it remained the largest procuring organization in this sector, with more than half of the sector volume (51.7 per cent). UNICEF's procurement of Pharmaceuticals, Contraceptives and Vaccines reduced by $322 million to $1.5 billion from 2016 to 2017. While there was a slight decline in the number of vaccine doses procured in 2017, (2.44 billion doses in 2017 compared to 2.5 billion doses in 2016, a 2 per cent decrease), a significant proportion of the decrease procurement volume was attributed to cost savings realized in the procurement of vaccines.

Three organizations within the top five increased their procurement volume in this sector from 2016 to 2017. PAHO experienced increases both in volume ($21 million) and in the share of the sector total – from 16.2 per cent in 2016 to 17.8 per cent in 2017. UNDP increased its procurement volume from $224 million in 2016 to $317 million in 2017, mainly in Hormones and Hormones Antagonists (with an increase of $85 million). UNFPA increased its procurement volume from $133 million in 2016 to $152 million in 2017 to displace UNOPS as the fifth largest UN organization within the Health sector.

WHO decreased its procurement volume of Comprehensive Health Services from $390 million in 2016 to $254 million in 2017, while its procurement in the sector overall reduced by $109 million.

In 2017, 62.5 per cent of procurement volume in the Health sector came from five countries – the same five countries as in 2016 (Table 3.7). The top three had a reduction in their procurement volume mainly because of reduced procurement volume from UNICEF. India, the largest Health supplier country, decreased its supplied volume from $804 million in 2016 to $700 million in 2017; Belgium decreased its supplied volume from $754 million to $587 million; and the United States of America also decreased from $508 million to $432 million. On the other hand, France and Netherlands increased their supplied volume by $39 million (of which $30 million was from UNICEF) and $26 million (driven by WHO and PAHO), respectively.

Transport

Transport sector procurement increased by $175 million from 2016 to 2017. The UNSPSC segments within the sector that drove the increase were Travel Services<sup>23</sup> ($191 million) and Motor Vehicles and Parts ($69 million). On the other hand, the Transportation, Storage, Mail Services segment decreased by $85 million.

<sup>23</sup> Travel services refers only to services within the 90000000 – Travel, Food and Lodging segment that are related to travel services.

Figure 3.4 – Categories within the Transport sector, 2017 (USD million)

Within this sector, 91.5 per cent of the volume was reported at a minimum of UNSPSC family level. The top ten categories reported at a UNSPSC family level represent 91.1 per cent of total Transport sector procurement (Table 3.8). Mail and Cargo Transport continued to be the leading category with a small increase compared to 2016 volume (a total increase of $56 million with a large proportion of this attributable to UNHCR). Passenger Transport procurement dropped $150 million mainly because UNPD changed the reporting approach to the Travel Facilitation category ($91 million). The Motor Vehicles category increased by $76 million from 2016 to 2017, mainly due to UNOPS procurement for nongovernment organizations, national governments and other partners (an increase of $25 million). Other organizations that increased expenditure on Motor Vehicles were UNHCR ($17 million increase), UNPD ($16 million increase) and UNDP ($14 million increase). Procurement in the Transport Services category increased by $71 million from 2016, mostly due to WFP spending an additional $55 million under the category.

Five UN organizations were responsible for 78.9 per cent of Transport sector procurement (Table 3.9). WFP and UNPD continued to be in the top two of sector procurement with similar volumes to 2016. UNICEF had a decrease of $36 million compared to 2016; UNDP had a slight increase of $6 million and UNOPS had a significant increase of its procurement volume of $44 million, mainly in the Transport Services and Motor Vehicles categories.

Within the Transport sector, 32.2 per cent of the UN procurement volume was sourced from five supplier countries (Table 3.10). The top sector volume came from Russian Federation suppliers with $223 million, a small reduction from 2016 ($237 million). The procurement volume from suppliers in Denmark dropped $34 million after OPCW, UNICEF and UNHCR reduced their procurement spent by $30 million, $18 million and $8 million, respectively, while UNPD and UNDP increased theirs, by $17 million and $14 million, respectively. Procurement volume from the United States of America, Kenya and the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Northern Ireland increased by $61 million (of which $50 million was from WFP), $96 million ($42 million from WFP) and $44 million, respectively ($52 million from WFP).

Food and Farming

There were no major changes in the Food and Farming sector from 2016. The sector had a small decrease of $11 million from 2016 to 2017, WFP and UNPD continued to be the main buyers of Food and Farming goods and services. Food and Beverage Products segments continued to represent 92.4 per cent of total sector procurement with a small increase of $2.6 million from 2016. The Live Plant and Animal Material segment had an overall decrease of $15 million due to the reduction of PAHO procurement from $20 million to $0.1 million.

In 2017, the percentage of data reported at a minimum of UNSPSC family level increased from 33.9 per cent to 99.7 per cent. This was due to WFP providing data with more detailed product coding. This allows for greater insight into procurement in the sector in 2017, and will allow for more detailed trend analysis in future reports.

Figure 3.5 - Categories at the UNSPSC segment level within the Food and Farming sector, 2017 (USD million)

Table 3.11 shows the top ten categories at the UNSPSC family level for the Food and Farming sector in 2017. Cereal and Pulse Products was the top category with $640 million, 94.2 per cent of which was procured by WFP. The second largest category was Prepared and Preserved Foods with $411 million, of which $400 million was procured by UNPD. The third and fourth largest categories were Nutritional Supplements ($308 million) and Fresh Vegetables ($242 million – almost all of which was procured by WFP).

The organizations procuring in the Food and Farming sector, and the concentration of spend with the top five organizations, remained the same in 2017 as in 2016. Five UN organizations procured almost all (98.3 per cent) of the goods and services in the sector (Table 3.13). WFP and UNRWA had slight increases of $38 million and $4.7 million, respectively. UNPD, FAO and UNDP all decreased procurement volume in the sector, with UNDP experiencing the largest reduction in percentage terms (reducing by 31.7 per cent).

In 2017, Food and Farming sector procurement was less concentrated in the top five supplier countries than in 2016. In 2016, the top five supplier countries accounted for 51.7 per cent of sector procurement volume, while in 2017 this reduced to 41.5 per cent. Turkey continued to be the top sector supplier; however, its total volume reduced by $226 million (WFP had a reduction of $228 million, offset by a small combined increase by FAO and UNRWA of $2.5 million). The United Arab Emirates had a slight decrease of $17 million in their supplied volume. Procurement from suppliers in Panama was $26 million higher than in 2016, of which $25 million was for Prepared and Preserved Foods procured by UNPD. Singapore and Nigeria increased their supplied volume to surpass France and Italy as the fourth and fifth largest sector suppliers. Singapore increased its supplied volume from less than a million to $98 million, of which WFP procured $97 million. Nigeria went from supplying $38 million in 2016 to $94 million in 2017 in the sector (WFP and FAO increased their procurement from Nigeria by $50 million and $7 million, respectively, compared to 2016).

Construction and Engineering

Given the nature of activities in the Construction and Engineering sector, procurement in this sector can change dramatically from year to year. While the total procurement volume for the sector remained almost constant at $2.0 billion in 2017 compared to 2016, there were changes in the top procuring organizations and top supplier countries.

In 2017, at the UNSPSC segment level, Building and Maintenance Services continued to be the top category with $1.3 billion (63.8 per cent of total sector procurement), an increase of $118 million from 2016 (Figure 3.6).

For 2017, 83.7 per cent of Construction and Engineering sector procurement was reported at a UNSPSC family level. The top ten categories reported at UNSPSC family level, shown in Table 3.14, represent 77.8 per cent of total UN organizations sector procurement. Procurement of Building and Facility Maintenance and Repair Services increased in volume by $244 million compared to 2016 (driven by UNDP and IOM with increases of $131 million and $102 million, respectively). There was an increase of $30 million on Professional Engineering Services, while the procurement volume for Non-residential Building Construction Services decreased $84 million, mainly because of the reduction of UNOPS procurement.

Five UN organizations were responsible for 74.1 per cent of the procurement volume in the Construction and Engineering sector, as shown in Table 3.15. UNDP increased its procurement volume by $269 million from 2016 to 2017, mainly in Building and Facility Maintenance and Repair Services procured from Iraqi suppliers (an increase of $123 million compared to 2016) and spend on Professional Engineering Services from suppliers in Senegal, Togo and Spain, which increased by $37 million, $23 million and $18 million, respectively. IOM also had a large increase ($73 million) mainly in Building and Facility Maintenance and Repair Services category. On the other hand, UNPD decreased its procurement volume by $92 million mainly in the Prefabricated Buildings and Structures category (decrease of $51 million). UNICEF had a slight decrease in its sector procurement from $267 million in 2016 to $248 million in 2017.

Thirty per cent of procurement in the Construction and Engineering sector came from five supplier countries (Table 3.16). Procurement in the sector from suppliers in Iraq more than quadrupled from $47 million in 2016 to $205 million in 2017, of which $164 million was procured by UNDP for the reconstruction of affected infrastructure in the country. UNPD, UNOPS and UNDP reduced procurement from suppliers in the United States of America by $39 million, $12 million and $9.4 million, respectively, but this was largely offset by the addition of $56 million in procurement by IMF, resulting in only a slight decrease in procurement from this country. Procurement from Lebanon and the United Arab Emirates remained stable from 2016 to 2017; however, there were notable changes in the procurement from individual organizations in those countries. There was a significant increase in procurement from suppliers in Senegal, with a total of $82 million of Professional Engineering Services procured by UNDP. Peru, the second largest sector supplier in 2016, had a significant decrease in its supplied volume after UNOPS completed a project there. The United Kingdom of Great Britain and Northern Ireland, the third largest supplier in 2016, had a decrease in 2017 sector supply due to UNPD and UNOG procurement reduction of $32 million and $31 million, respectively.

Other sectors

The Peace and Security sector totalled $368 million in 2017, $21 million or 37.1 per cent less than in 2016. Even though IMF added $18 million to the sector total, UNPD recorded $228 million less procurement in the sector due to a change in the way it reported Security and Personal Safety Services compared to 2016.

The Humanitarian Aid sector increased from $244 million in 2016 to $292 million in 2017. UNHCR was the largest procuring organization with $84 million, of which $79 million was allocated to Humanitarian Aid and Relief category. Lebanon was the largest category supplying $64 million (of which $58 million were for UNHCR and $5.3 million for ILO), an increase of $63 million from 2016.

The Climate Action sector had an increase of 33.7 per cent or $28 million from 2016 volume – a total of $112 million for 2017. The growth was driven by UNIDO, UNDP and UNOPS, which increased their procurement volumes in the sector by $14 million, $6.5 million and $3.6 million, respectively. The top sector supplier countries were China with $23 million, of which UNIDO procured $22 million of Environmental Management Services; and Mexico with $11 million, of which UNIDO procured $10 million of the same category.

The Energy sector decreased by $14 million or 11.9 per cent from 2016 volume– a total of $107 million for 2017. The overall decrease was the result of UNPD and UNOPS procurement reduction by $36 million and $10 million respectively; and the increase of UNDP by $21 million. Philippines was the top supplier country, with $26 million of Batteries and Generators and Kinetic Power Transmission procured by UNDP.

The Education category increased by $7.9 million or 9.4 per cent from 2016 volume – a total of $92 million for 2017. WFP, UNESCO and UNHCR were the UN organizations with the largest procurement volumes with $17 million, $17 million and $10 million, respectively. Specialized Education Services was the largest category with 52.5 per cent ($48 million) of total sector procurement. The United States of America was the largest supplier country with $8.8 million of mainly Education and Training Services.

The Clean Water and Sanitization sector totalled $14 million after a reduction of $8.9 million or 39.4 per cent from 2016 volume. The decrease was the result of a combination of UNPD procurement volume reduction – from $21 million in 2016 to $8.5 million in 2017 – and increased procurement by UNHCR and UNDP, by $1.7 million and $1.6 million, respectively.

Additionally, Other goods and services represented 15.0 per cent of the total in 2017, compared to 13.5 per cent in 2016. The increase was driven by a larger procurement of Computer Equipment and Accessories, Laboratory and Scientific Equipment and Engineering and Research Services. Table 3.17 shows a breakdown of the top UNSPSC families included in the Other goods and services sector.

SUSTAINABLE
THE UNITED NATIONS

SYSTEM

SUSTAINABLE PROCUREMENT IN THE UNITED NATIONS SYSTEM

Sustainable procurement practices integrate requirements, specifications and criteria that are compatible and in favour of the protection of the environment, of social progress and in support of economic development, namely by seeking resource efficiency, improving the quality of products and services, and ultimately optimizing costs.<sup>24</sup>

In 2017, the combined procurement spend of UN organizations totalled $18.6 billion. There is significant potential for this procurement activity to influence the market in favour of sustainable development. As in previous years, UN organizations participating in the ASR were invited to provide information about their sustainable procurement practices, using a voluntary online survey. In 2017, 38 out of 40 organizations provided information on sustainable procurement, compared to 28 out of 39 in 2016 (Figure 4.1). In addition, all 28 organizations that reported in 2016, reported again in 2017. Of the ten new reporting organizations, five reported for the first time in 2017, while five other organizations had reported previously in 2015.

Figure 4.1 - Organizations reporting on sustainable procurement (all organizations), 2013–2017

Overall, the combined spend of all organizations reporting on sustainable procurement in 2017 accounted for 97.4 per cent of the total UN procurement volume. This is the highest proportion for the last five years, as shown in Figure 4.2.

<sup>24</sup> United Nations High-Level Committee on Management Procurement Network (HLCM-PN) (2009) – Sustainable Procurement Statement, Adopted by the HLCM Procurement Network meeting in Vienna, February 2009.

Policy and strategy

The inclusion of sustainability considerations into an organization's procurement policy and strategy can enable personnel, suppliers, and other stakeholders to achieve a high level of commitment to more sustainable procurement practices, by providing the foundations and frameworks for action.

In 2017, more than half of the reporting organizations responded that they either have (39.5 per cent) or are planning to develop (13.2 per cent) a procurement policy that includes sustainability. Meanwhile, slightly less than half noted that they have (28.9 per cent) or are planning to adopt (15.8 per cent) a procurement strategy that includes sustainability (Figure 4.3). The adoption of a sustainable procurement policy and strategy were also identified as the most commonly cited sustainable procurement priorities for reporting organizations in the coming year, as can be seen by the 'Sustainable procurement outlook for 2018' (Figure 4.12).

Eleven out of the 38 organizations noted they had established measurable sustainability targets or objectives in their procurement processes, and another 5 were planning to establish such targets or objectives. Examples of sustainability targets provided include requirements to procure products manufactured from 100 per cent recovered paper fibres, targets for measuring women suppliers' participation in procurement processes, as well as requirements for sourcing 100 per cent green energy in certain locations.

Figure 4.3 - Status of sustainable procurement policy, strategy and target adoption, 2017

Organizations reporting in 2016 and 2017

Of those organizations that reported in both 2016 and 2017, overall, more organizations reported that they have a sustainable procurement policy (13 in 2017 compared to 9 in 2016) and strategy (9 in 2017 compared to 4 in 2016), as shown in Figure 4.4. Five of the nine organizations that reported in 2016 that they planned to adopt a sustainable procurement policy reported they had adopted one in 2017, and 4 of the 11 organizations that had planned in 2016 to adopt a sustainable procurement strategy reported that this had been achieved in 2017.

In addition, more than double the number of organizations had reportedly established measurable sustainability targets or objectives in their procurement processes in 2017 compared to 2016. Two of the four organizations that had planned to implement targets in 2016, reported this had been achieved in 2017. Additionally, 4 of the 20 organizations that reported not having sustainability targets or plans to develop them in 2016, reported they had actually established some in 2017.

Sustainable procurement integration in the procurement process

Sustainability considerations can be incorporated into different stages of the procurement process. Consistent with the methodology used in the 2016 report, organizations reported on how sustainability considerations have been integrated into their procurement processes in 2017 in three key areas: embedding sustainability criteria into the requirements definitions of tenders;<sup>26</sup> using total cost of ownership in the financial evaluation of tenders;<sup>27</sup> and including sustainability aspects in contract terms.

In 2017, the use of total cost of ownership in the financial evaluation of bids remained the most commonly applied sustainability consideration. Figure 4.5 shows that total cost of ownership was utilized by 27 of the 38 reporting organizations. Twenty organizations noted that they incorporated sustainability criteria in the requirements definitions of their tenders, and 15 reported that they had included sustainability aspects in their contracts.

For the 28 organizations that reported in both years, only minor changes in the responses were reported, as illustrated in Figure 4.6.

<sup>26</sup> The general purpose of a requirements definition is to identify the precise needs of the requisitioner and to determine the best solution to meet those needs, in a way that will facilitate the procurement process.

<sup>27</sup> In the 2016 report, the term "whole life costing" was used. In 2017, this term was replaced with the term "total cost of ownership" which is considered to be more widely applied throughout the UN system. Total cost of ownership is defined as the sum of all recurring and one–time costs over of a good, service, structure, or system while in one's possession. It includes purchase price, installation cost, operating costs, maintenance and repair/ upgrade costs, and remaining residual or salvage volume at the end of ownership or the product's useful life.

Figure 4.6 – Year to year comparison of reporting organizations' sustainable procurement integration in the procurement process – 28 organizations reporting both in 2016 and 2017

Sustainability considerations in tenders

Organizations were asked to estimate the percentage of tenders that included sustainability considerations, for both technical and administrative categories.<sup>28</sup> Administrative was defined as the procurement of office needs such as paper, computers and furniture, while technical was defined as the procurement of project–related needs that are not administrative. The results are shown in Figure 4.7.

In 2017, 7 out of 38 organizations reported incorporating sustainability considerations in the requirements definitions of more than 20 per cent of administrative tenders, while 6 noted they did so in more than 20 per cent of technical tenders. However, identifying these estimates continued to pose challenges for organizations; almost one–third of organizations indicated that sustainability considerations were only included in between zero and five per cent of tenders, or that information was not available.

Overall sustainability considerations were incorporated more frequently in tenders for administrative than technical categories, which is consistent with 2016 findings.<sup>29</sup>

<sup>28</sup> These two categories are general descriptions. They do not correspond to the taxonomy of the UNSPSC®.

<sup>29</sup> While a consistent approach was taken in both the 2016 and 2017 ASR, the wording of the question on technical categories was clarified for 2017. Accordingly, the understanding of what these categories entail might have been improved.

Figure 4.7 – Inclusion of sustainable procurement considerations in requirements definitions for technical and administrative categories, 2017

Total cost of ownership in the financial evaluation

Total cost of ownership in the financial evaluation of tenders was employed more frequently and by a majority of reporting organizations (Figure 4.8). Of the 27 organizations that reported that they apply total cost of ownership in the financial evaluations of their tenders, 18 reportedly do so in more than 20 per cent of their tenders – a relative share increase of 16.7 percentage points as compared to 2016 data. However, data availability remained an issue for six of the reporting organizations.

Figure 4.8 – Integration of total cost of ownership in financial evaluations for tenders, 18 organizations in 2016 and 27 organizations in 2017

Types of sustainability considerations addressed in procurement processes

Organizations also reported on which types of sustainability considerations were addressed through their procurement processes in 2017. Economic sustainability continued to be the most commonly applied considerations, followed closely by environmental ones, and then social, as shown in Figure 4.9.

Despite a small decrease over the past three years, environmental sustainability considerations were still more commonly applied than social ones with 63.2 per cent of organizations addressing environmental sustainability considerations in procurement processes in 2017. At the same time, the inclusion of social considerations continued to grow.

Internal capacity development

Training and the development of internal capacity on sustainable procurement can be important enablers for organizations to successfully integrate sustainability considerations into their procurement processes. In 2017, 22 of the 38 reporting organizations (57.9 per cent) stated they had trained procurers over the past three years on how to include sustainability considerations in the procurements, while five organizations noted that they planned to do so in 2018 (Figure 4.10).

In addition, 13 out of 38 organizations noted that they had already made or were planning to make investments in other activities to enhance their internal capacity on sustainable procurement. Reported examples of such investments included the development of sustainable procurement monitoring systems, projects on responsible sourcing, and the inclusion of procurement personnel earlier in the design phase of projects.

Of the 28 organizations that reported in both 2016 and 2017, notable progress continued to be made; 5 more organizations reported they had undertaken training compared to 2016, while the number of organizations with no training plan decreased by half, from 12 in 2016 to 6 in 2017. Several organizations that reported having no plans to provide training in 2016, reported in 2017 that they had provided training.

Figure 4.10 – Training of procurers on sustainability in the last three years, 2016–2017

Supplier engagement

Suppliers can play an important role in the advancement of more sustainable practices. Through the United Nations Supplier Code of Conduct,<sup>30</sup> the UN has summarized its expectations of all suppliers in terms of labour and human rights, protection of the environment and ethical conduct. Ensuring that suppliers comply with the Code of Conduct and collaborating with them to enhance sustainability practices can help UN organizations address potential and current sustainability risks throughout the entire supply chain.

In 2017, 20 of the 38 reporting organizations (52.6 per cent) stated they verified the adherence of their suppliers to the code of conduct, representing an increase of 6.2 percentage points compared to 2016 (Figure 4.11). Of those 20 organizations, 16 noted that active verification consisted primarily of the maintenance of a UNGM roster list, 6 organizations stated they used a supplier questionnaire and 4 conducted in–person site visits.<sup>31</sup>

Despite an increase in verification, only 10 out of 38 reporting organizations stated they worked with their suppliers to enhance the sustainability of their supply chains – a significant reduction when compared to the percentage of organizations reporting the same in 2016. This may be explained by the large increase in the number of reporting organizations. Examples of collaboration with suppliers that were provided included the assessment of strategic suppliers' corporate social responsibility activity and the co-development of supplier capacity building plans.

Sustainable procurement outlook for 2018

Most organizations reported that they intend to undertake further sustainable procurement related activities in 2018. The most prioritized activities for 2018 related primarily to establishing high-level commitment through items such as dedicated sustainable procurement strategies, policies and objectives (Figure 4.12). This was broadly consistent with the 2016 survey findings. However, other activities that figured prominently for 2018 were continued supplier engagement efforts and the training of staff.

sustainability of supply chain

Eleven of the 38 reporting organizations noted how they used and are continuing to use sustainable procurement practices to advance the 2030 Agenda. Examples included the application of gender-responsive procurement processes to increase the share of women suppliers participating in procurement.

UN procurement from companies participating in the United Nations Global Compact

For the 11th consecutive year, in addition to the voluntary survey on sustainable procurement, data was collected from all 40 reporting organizations in order to analyze total UN procurement from companies participating in the United Nations Global Compact (UN Global Compact or UNGC) in 2017.

The UN Global Compact is the world's largest corporate sustainability initiative, calling on companies to align their strategies and operations with universal principles on human rights, labour, environment and anti-corruption, and urging them to take actions that promote sustainable development. All UN suppliers, regardless of their size or location, are actively encouraged to align with the ten principles<sup>32</sup> of the UN Global Compact and join the initiative. Participation in the UN Global Compact is voluntary and requires the submission of an annual report outlining the actions undertaken to advance sustainability. As of 31 December 2017, the UN Global Compact had almost 9,700 participating companies.

Figure 4.13 – UN procurement from companies participating in the UN Global Compact, 2015-2017

In 2017, UN organizations submitted supplier names for 93.0 per cent of their reported procurement data (by volume). These names were matched with the names of companies participating in the UN Global Compact to determine the total share of UN procurement from such companies, which amounted to $2.7 billion (as shown in Figure 4.13).

Despite an increase in total UN procurement volume from 2015 to 2017, procurement from companies participating in the UN Global Compact decreased by $438 million (13.7 per cent) over the same period. As a share of total procurement (excluding data where the supplier name is unspecified), procurement from participating companies also reduced from 22.4 per cent in 2015 to 15.9 per cent in 2017.<sup>33</sup> In general, the decrease was experienced consistently between regions as shown in Figure 4.14.

<sup>32</sup> For more information on the ten principles, please see: https://www.unglobalcompact.org/what-is-gc/mission/.

The decrease in procurement volume from companies participating in the UN Global Compact could be attributed to a general UN trend towards increased procurement from LDCs, as described in section 2, and suppliers in Africa and Latin America and the Caribbean, where there were proportionally fewer participating companies. In 2017, the majority of companies participating in the UN Global Compact were based in developed countries (55.0 per cent), compared to 41.0 per cent that were registered in developing countries and countries with economies in transition, and 4.0 per cent that were registered in LDCs.

In 2017, procurement from companies participating in the UN Global Compact was predominantly from suppliers in Europe (51.0 per cent), followed by Northern America (22.5 per cent) and Asia (18.4 per cent). This varied significantly from the regional distribution of UN procurement more generally, where 29.9 per cent was from suppliers in Europe, 10.6 per cent from Northern America suppliers and 32.9 per cent from suppliers in Asia (Figure 4.16). In Africa, while the UN procurement volume increased by $473 million in 2017, as described in section 1, UN procurement from companies participating in the UN Global Compact in Africa remained the same as in 2016. Such trends may provide an important opportunity for increased participation by suppliers in the UN Global Compact as the UN procures more from those regions.

<sup>33</sup> In previous reports, the analysis of procurement from suppliers participating in the UN Global Compact only considered where the procurement volume exceeded $30,000. This was done for consistency between years and due to historical limitations in the availability of data. From 2017, the methodology was changed to include all available reported data. Therefore, these results cannot be directly compared to results published in previous reports. The results from 2015 and 2016 have been recalculated using the 2017 methodology and presented here for comparison.

COLLABORATIVE PROCUREMENT WITHIN THE UNITED NATIONS SYSTEM

COLLABORATIVE PROCUREMENT WITHIN THE UNITED NATIONS SYSTEM

In 2017, the ASR reports for the second time on collaborative procurement within the UN system. This is in response to the Quadrennial Comprehensive Policy Review resolution<sup>36</sup> adopted by the General Assembly on 21 December 2016. The General Assembly called upon UN organizations to further their synergies and inter-agency efforts and requested that UN system entities explore further opportunities for collaborative procurement at the global, regional and country levels. The General Assembly also requested that the organizations record details of the efficiencies achieved through collaborative procurement and report them in a consolidated format to the ASR.

Collaborative procurement encompasses the following set of activities:37

- Using existing long-term agreements (LTAs) or contracts of other UN organizations
- Establishing and using joint LTAs through a 'lead agency' approach
- Using the procurement services of other UN organizations
- Procuring from other UN organizations
- Other formal collaborations with UN partners through: (i) joint procurement unit, or (ii) sharing specifications or developing common specifications

Total collaborative procurement

In 2017, 22 out of 40 UN organizations reported on collaborative procurement as part of their ASR submissions. In addition, for the purposes of this analysis, transactions where the supplier was another UN organization have been identified as collaborative procurement.<sup>38</sup> When such data is included, almost all organizations (38 out of 40) used collaborative procurement approaches in 2017.

The total collaborative procurement volume in 2017 was $2.6 billion, representing 14.2 per cent of the total UN procurement volume. This figure includes $608 million of procurement transactions where an organization procured goods and services from another UN organization. Such procurement from other UN organizations represented 3.3 per cent of the total 2017 UN procurement volume.

Other collaborative procurement activities (procurement indicated by organizations as using collaborative procurement approaches but excluding UN procurement from other UN organizations) totalled $2.0 billion. Most organizations have technical restrictions that limit their ability to report on collaborative procurement, so that figure would represent a conservative estimate of collaborative procurement in the UN system.

UN organizations conducting collaborative procurement

Table 2.1 shows the top UN organizations that undertook procurement using collaborative approaches in 2017.

The organization that procured the highest volume using collaborative procurement was UNICEF, with $1.9 billion and 72.3 per cent of the total collaborative procurement volume. This included $17 million procurement from other UN organizations.

<sup>38</sup> This is an enhanced methodology compared to the 2016 ASR, therefore care should be taken if comparing results.

UNPD reported the second largest collaborative procurement volume with $98.4 million. All of this procurement leveraged other UN organizations as the supplier of their procurement process. UNOPS reported the third largest collaborative procurement volume, with $94.8 million.

UNICEF also had the highest collaborative procurement volume as a proportion of the organization's total procurement at 55.7 per cent. The World Meteorological Organization (WMO) reported the second highest proportion (50.7 per cent) while the United Nations Office at Vienna (UNOV) had the third highest proportion, with 42.4 per cent. However, the collaborative procurement by WMO and UNOV in volume terms was relatively low at 7.2 million and $36 million respectively.

UN organizations procuring from other UN organizations

In 2017, 37 organizations reported that they procured from other UN organizations. UNDP had the most diverse range of UN suppliers, procuring goods and services from 31 different UN organizations. FAO procured from 30 different UN organizations, while UNOPS procured from 28.

The top five procuring organizations were responsible for procuring more than half the total procurement volume where another UN organization was recorded as the supplier, as shown in Table 5.3.

UNPD procured $98.4 million from other UN organizations primarily from UNOPS and UNDP. UNDP procured $93.2 million from UN organizations, including $27 million of Amebicides and Trichomonacides and Antiprotozoals and $15 million of Mosquito Nets. WHO procured $70.2 million from UN organizations, including $26 million from UNOPS, of which $22.6 million was for Accounting and Bookkeeping Services.

UN organizations supplying other UN organizations

In 2017, 34 reporting organizations supplied other reporting UN organizations with goods and services. UNDP was the UN organization of supply most common to other organizations (36 organizations procured from UNDP). This was followed by UNOPS, which supplied 27 organizations, and WFP, which supplied 22 organizations. Table 5.4 shows the top five supplying UN organizations to other UN organizations.

In volume terms, the organizations that supplied the most to other UN organizations were UNDP, UNICEF and WFP, collectively supplying $240 million to the UN system in 2017. Of this volume, the top five UN supplying organizations were responsible for together supplying 52.7 per cent, as shown in Table 5.5. UNDP supplied other organizations with goods and services worth $105.3 million, representing 17.3 per cent of the total volume supplied to other UN organizations. This included supplying UNOV with $27 million in goods and services, including $5.7 million of Hotels and Lodging and Meeting Facilities and $2.6 million of Management and Administrative Services.

UNICEF supplied $74 million (12.2 per cent), including $49 million to UNDP and $16 million to WHO. WFP supplied $61 million (10.0 per cent), including $20 million to UNDP and $13 million to UNHCR.

UN procurement from other UN organizations by category

In 2017, UN procurement from other UN organizations was distributed across 50 UNSPSC segments out of 57. The top ten categories accounted for 83.8 per cent of the total volume of UN procurement from other UN organizations, as shown in Table 5.7.

The largest category by volume was Management and Administrative Services with $126 million. Procurement within this category was primarily performed by UNPD and UNHCR in the UNSPSC families Real Estate Services and Business Administration Services.

The second largest category was Engineering and Research Services, which was composed primarily of UNPD procurement of Computer Services and Information and Technology Service delivery from UNOPS.

Politics and Civic Affairs Services was the third largest category, with $66 million or 10.9 per cent of total UN procurement from other UN organizations. This was predominantly related to procurement of International Relations services by WFP and IAEA.

Collaborative procurement by category (excluding UN procurement from other UN organizations)

Beyond UN procurement from other UN organizations, the volume of other collaborative procurement reported was $2.0 billion in 2017. As shown in Table 5.8, this was dominated by procurement by UNICEF in three categories – Pharmaceuticals, Contraceptives, Vaccines, with $1.5 billion in 2017, followed by Medical Equipment with $334 million and Transportation, Storage, Mail Services with $126 million.

While there was collaborative procurement reported against a further 44 UNSPSC segments, the procurement volumes in these other segments were relatively small. There was $18.6 million procurement of Motor Vehicles and Parts identified as collaborative, primarily by UNOPS, with a further $16.1 million of collaborative procurement on IT and Communications Equipment.

Opportunities for collaboration

Opportunities exist for collaboration between UN organizations, particularly where there is a large volume of procurement of a certain good or service, and a large number of organizations procuring that good or service.

Table 5.9 shows procurement categories, at the UNSPSC family level, where the total procurement volume was at least $150 million in 2017. It is ordered by the number of organizations that reported procurement against each category. The table also shows the number of LTAs recorded in the database on UNGM that were active during 2017. While the data available is not sufficient to determine whether these LTAs were appropriate for each procurement event, it nevertheless gives an indication of the level of collaboration that could be possible.

For 18 of the 26 categories shown in Table 5.9, procurement was recorded by at least 25 UN organizations in 2017. The total procurement volume in these 18 categories was $7.2 billion. Only 5.7 per cent or $410 million was reported as collaborative.

In 2017, the category with the highest number of UN organizations reporting procurement was Computer Services – 39 out of 40 organizations. It also has the highest number of active LTAs in UNGM (106). However, identified collaborative procurement only accounted for 14.4 per cent ($66 million) of the total procurement volume ($455 million) for Computer Services.

The Mail and Cargo Transport category reported a $1.1 billion procurement volume in 2017, with 37 out of 40 UN organizations procuring in this category and $34.5 million (3.2 per cent) identified as collaborative procurement.

Clinical Nutrition was the category with the highest collaborative procurement volume, both in absolute terms ($191 million) and as a percentage of the total procurement volume in the category (86.6 per cent). In this category UNICEF was responsible for 99.8 per cent of the total procurement volume, alongside three other organizations.
